Goes Smiling to Gallows Chicago Gunman Is Hanged

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—"Smiling Jack" O'Brien retained his smile to the last when he was hanged for the murder of Policeman Richard Burke. O'Brien, 21-year-old gunman, was hanged in Cook county jail this morning.

The execution was delayed nearly an hour when a last minute request was received from the grand jury asking to see O'Brien. The jurors remained in the death chamber and watched the hanging and when O'Brien was convicted of shooting the policeman in a gun battle in a saloon. He declared in court that he was guilty, but three days ago claimed that he had pleaded guilty when the late "Boss" Enright, leader of a gunmen's clan, who was killed recently by a member of his own band, offered to get him off with a two-year sentence if he would accept the blame to shield a relative of Enright. Lieutenant Oglesby refused to grant a reprieve to investigate the story.

WOMAN SHOT BY JEALOUS SUITOR, DIES

ALAMEDA, Feb. 20.—Mrs. Gertrude Sutherland, victim of the jealous rage of her suitor, William Jensen, died last night about midnight, presumably from infection contracted from the bullet in her throat.

Coroner Grant Miller has not yet set the inquest. It will be held at the Alameda branch morgue, probably Monday. Jensen is now in the county jail, having been held for trial on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder. The charge will now undoubtedly be changed to one of murder.

The shooting took place last December in Mrs. Sutherland's grocery and notion store at 2155 Encinal avenue.

Jensen disappeared immediately after the shooting. He went home, changed his clothes and was later found hiding in a ravine near the county infirmary.

Mrs. Sutherland was a widow. She leaves a married daughter, Mrs. George Olson of Wisconsin, who will arrive in Alameda tonight.

COUNCILMAN DENIES TALE BY FIREMAN

BERKELEY, Feb. 20.—After he had been sworn in as a witness in the hearing of Ira B. Boehrer, Berkeley fireman who is appealing for reinstatement, Commissioner Carl Bartlett this morning refused to testify when informed that such action would deprive him of a vote on Boehrer's petition.

"I will exercise my right to a vote in this trial," said Bartlett.

Outside the statement made yesterday by William Meinheit that he had given $40 to Boehrer for electioneering purposes, "There is not a word of truth in it," he said.

Meinheit was called to the stand again and repeated his story that Boehrer had told him he had received $40 from Bartlett. The witness also said he had been called to a meeting in Fire House No. 2 and that while there Bartlett asked him if it were true that he was circulating the story of the money and Boehrer. Meinheit said that he replied that Boehrer had told him that the money was given.

Bartlett then, according to the witness, said: "This is a serious matter. People have been sued for less. I intend to investigate."

Tom Kose and George Perrier testified that they did not see the money exchanged or hear the conversation (testimony by Meinheit) who has said that one of the other must have been the third person present.

City Attorney Frank V. Cornish took occasion to offer an apology to Bartlett for anything that he might have said yesterday that reflected on the integrity of the councilman. "The commissioner's reputation and honesty are not attacked," said Cornish. "The reason the story was introduced was to show Boehrer's attitude toward the department and his fellow firemen."

A large number of character witnesses were put on for Boehrer and a recommendation written by Chief Vollmer when Boehrer left the police department.

The hearing was brought to a close at 12:30 o'clock and the council began to consider the evidence.

COURT DECIDES OUSTING MAN NOT BATTERY

BERKELEY, Feb. 20.—Taking a man by the coat collar and the seat of the trousers doesn't constitute battery in the opinion of Judge Robert Edgar, who has found W. L. Claiborne, attorney, of 2201 Illinois street, not guilty of two charges against him.

Claiborne was arrested on complaints of W. J. Meacham, process server of San Francisco, and Patrick Sullivan, also of the same city, complainant in a suit against Claiborne. They charged Claiborne with beating them up when they went to his home to serve court summons on him and his wife.

In court yesterday Claiborne declared that after Meacham had served his summons he delayed to argue the case and that he gently took him by the collar and trousers seat and shoved him out the door. It was then that the alleged fight took place, in which Sullivan lost three teeth.

Both battery complaints were heard at the same time, with the judge finding the defendant not guilty on both counts.

Mrs. E. S. Morse Funeral is Held

BERKELEY, Feb. 20.—Funeral services were conducted today from local undertaking parlors for Mrs. Ellen Sophia Morse, widow of R. A. Morse, pioneer Berkeleyan.

Mrs. Morse's death occurred suddenly yesterday morning at her home, 2023 Bancroft way. A native of New York, Mrs. Morse was 78 years of age. She had made her home in Berkeley for a half-century, her family formerly owning the property now known as Claremont Court.

The Morse family home on Bancroft way is one of the oldest in the city, being established 40 years ago and occupied continuously by the family. Mrs. Morse's husband was a brother of Mrs. Francis K. Shattuck, for whose husband Shattuck avenue was named, while she was an aunt of Mrs. William E. Woolsey and Mrs. Frederick H. Redmon.

Surviving are three children, Mrs. C. W. Brock, wife of a Berkeley realty broker; Clinton R. Morse, well known musician and director of the University of California Glee Club; and Miss Blanche Morse, principal of the McKinley school. The late Mrs. B. Winter was also a daughter.

Visiting Canadian Woman Is Fined for Slapping Child

BERKELEY, Feb. 20.—Three children, all under twelve, struck and injured by the arrival of Mrs. Travers, a Canadian woman, were fined for the benefit of Police Judge Turner. "Boy and three, they were fighting like sixty and nobody was to have ended in a slapping. So well and so convincingly did they tell, when Mrs. Travers came along, that she was slapped. Yes, she did, miss, assessed against Mrs. Clara Travers, the woman who slapped them."

The case landed on Roy's case, according to the children, and then Mrs. Travers struck them under her arm and went inside.

After the fine had been assessed, Mrs. Travers surveyed the courtroom and the smiling faces of the children for the prosecution and edged toward the door.

"Now, there's a sample of justice for you," she said over her shoulder, and departed with the last word.

In the corridor she confided the information that she is a Canadian night.

here on a visit with her brother Robert. "It is my intention," she said, "to go home right away."

Save the Babies

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent, or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent, or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. There can be no danger in the use of Castoria if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, as it contains no opiates or narcotics of any kind.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Charles H. Crocker Rescued From Bay

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—Chas. H. Crocker of Belvedere was treated to an impromptu plunge into the bay yesterday, when the gangplank leading to the deck of Colusa, upon which he was going to sail for the Far East, was hoisted before he could get off of it.

Crocker, who has offices at 565 Market street, was plastered by a sticky coat of crude oil by his unwelcome bath, but was rescued and had a bath in time to sail on the Colusa. His "dip" was witnessed by relatives and several friends, who cheered when Andrew Fryle, employee of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, aided Crocker to regain the deck of the ship.

The NEW EDISON "The Phonograph with a Soul"

The Tone Test is the supreme and searching test of an instrument's quality. In a Tone Test, the artist stands beside the instrument and sings in direct comparison with the New Edison's RE-CREATION of his or her voice. Occasionally the singer ceases while the instrument continues alone. Can you tell when the break occurs? That is the question. Can you distinguish the living voice from the RE-CREATED voice? More than two million people have sought to do so. Not one has succeeded. More than 1500 public Tone Tests have been conducted. Always the New Edison has emerged successfully. SHOP COUNCIL BENEFIT TO CLOTHING INDUSTRY

Garment Workers Organize to Mutually Aid Factory Owners and Themselves

By RAY STANNARD BAKER.

In the same shop there was a young Jewish clothing cutter named Sidney Hillman. He was at the time only 24 years old. He was born in Russia and came up through the narrow but thorough training of a rabbinical school. Like so many other restless young Russians, he became an exile in America, fleeing against the Czarist government. He was arrested before he was 18 years old and thrown into prison, where he spent his time reading every book upon economic and political science he could lay hands upon. When he got out of prison he left Russia, spent a year in Manchester, England, and then came to Chicago, where he worked in the plant of Sears, Roebuck & Co., and later in the shops of Hart, Schaffner & Marx. He had an ambition to be a lawyer, but when the disturbances began he came at once into local leadership and was the principal agent on the part of the men in working out the remarkable new cooperative agreement which was signed during the following year, 1911.

LOCALS ARE DISCONTENTED
At the time of this agreement the dominant union in the garment trades was the United Garment Workers, which was affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. But many of the local organizations were discontented with the old craft unionism and the militaristic methods and leadership of the American Federation of Labor. In the national convention of the United Garment Workers in 1913 the differences came to a head and when a considerable number of delegates were denied seats they withdrew, held a rump convention, formed a new organization called the Amalgamated Clothing Workers and elected Sidney Hillman as their president. The principles upon which the new organization was founded were in brief as follows:

(1) To place less emphasis upon craft organization and more upon a union of all the workers in the industry; to be as hospitable toward the unskilled as toward the skilled.
(2) To cooperate with employers wherever possible rather than to fight them—but to fight, and fight hard, if necessary. They had before them the Hart, Schaffner & Marx agreement of 1911 as a way of approach toward industrial democracy.

Although excommunicated by the American Federation of Labor this new organization spread with extraordinary rapidity. Today it has a membership of some 200,000 and practically dominates the workers in the men's garment trades of America and Canada.

IS WEALTHY ORGANIZATION
It is one of the most powerful unions in the country; it publishes its paper in seven languages; it conducts interesting welfare and educational work; it is planning large office buildings for its own use (one to cost a million dollars) in New York and Chicago; it is projecting a new building in New York which it was rich enough to send a check of $100,000 to the steel workers in their recent strike. It has succeeded in binding together in a close union workers of a dozen different nationalities and chiefly Jews, Italians, Poles, Bohemians, but including many old-stock Americans, Scotch, English, Scandinavians and others.

The essential element in the Hart, Schaffner & Marx agreement from which the entire development springs, is also the fundamental idea found in the "shop committee" system which I have already described—that labor must be represented in managing those elements of industry which concern its own life. Therefore the Hart, Schaffner & Marx agreement provides for the secret election by the workers in each shop of a "chairman." These chairmen, who are of course union men, because the shops are firmly organized, elect five delegates to meet five representatives of the employers in a "trade board," where all questions that arise can be discussed upon an equal and democratic basis.

SHOP COUNCILS SYSTEM
This is, in its essence, the usual "shop councils" system; but in the garment trades two very important new features have been introduced. One is the principle of continuous negotiation, with an agreement never to let a difference of opinion reach the point of a strike. Instead of meeting occasionally and dealing at arm's length, these "trade boards" are in session every day and any trouble that may arise is instantly dealt with.

The other important feature is the "impartial chairman." He is the outsider who is chosen to preside over the trade board and to decide questions when a deadlock occurs between the five members representing the workers and the five members representing the employers. In short, there is not only continuous negotiation, but continuous arbitration.

Very able and broad-minded men, often college professors, have been chosen for impartial chairman and arbitrators. At present Professor James H. Tufts of Chicago University is chairman of the board of arbitration in the Chicago market. So much lies in the spirit of approach to these new methods that every one who is really interested ought to read the following line extracts (written by J. E. Williams, now deceased, the first chairman of the board of arbitration and one of the real creators of the movement) from the preamble of the agreement—which are, in their way, a setting forth of the basic principles for a new constitution for industry now in the making.

PREAMBLE OF AGREEMENT
"On the part of the employer it is the intention and expectation that this compact of peace and good will, the establishment and maintenance of a high order of discipline and efficiency by the willing cooperation of union and workers rather than by the old method of surveillance and coercion; that by the exercise of this discipline an stoppage and interruptions of work, and all willful violations of rules will cease; that good standards of workmanship and conduct will be maintained and a proper quantity, quality and cost of production will be assured; and that out of its operation will issue such cooperation and good will between employers, foremen, union and workers as will prevent industrial strife, and friction and make for good team work, good business, mutual advantage and mutual respect."

"On the part of the union it is the intention and expectation that this compact will, with the cooperation of the employer, operate in such a way as to maintain strength and solidify its organization, so that it may be strong enough and affluent enough to cooperate as contemplated in the preceding paragraph; and also that it may be strong enough to command the respect of the employer without being forced to resort to militant or unfriendly measures.

RECOURSE TO COURT
"On the part of the workers it is the intention and expectation that they pass from the status of wage servants, with no claim on the employer save his economic need, to that of self-respecting parties to an agreement which they have had an equal part with him in making; that this status gives them an assurance of fair and just treatment and protects them against injustice or oppression of those who may have been placed in authority over them; that they will have recourse to a court, in the creation of which their votes were duly potent with that of the employer, in which all their grievances may be heard and all their claims adjudicated; that all changes during the life of the pact shall be subject to the approval of an impartial tribunal, and that wages and working conditions shall not fall below the level provided for in the agreement."

The parties to this pact realize that the interests sought to be reconciled herein will tend to pull apart, but they enter it in the faith that by the exercise of the cooperative and constructive spirit it will be possible to bring and keep them together. This will involve as an indispensable prerequisite the total suppression of the militant spirit by both parties and the development of reason instead of force as the rule of action."

COVERS ENTIRE INDUSTRY
The new arrangement in the Hart, Schaffner & Marx shops, though at first regarded by many employers with great suspicion and skepticism, worked so well that it has now spread until it covers, practically the entire industry in America.

In each of the great markets—Chicago, New York, Rochester, Baltimore—there are now "market boards" in which the organized employers meet the organized workers to discuss and settle problems that concern the wider interests that arise in the entire market. Last July another great step forward was taken—the employees of the entire country organized a National Federation to meet upon an equal basis the national union of the workers and to establish a national joint board, which should be in effect a government for the entire trade in America. Canada, establishing law and order for the whole industry. This has just begun to function.

Now, in this article I have sketched all too briefly the interesting history of this new movement, set forth the principles upon which it is based and outlined the structure of its organization. In the next article I shall examine the development critically. How has it affected the worker, how the employer, how the public? How far is the plan applicable to other industries?

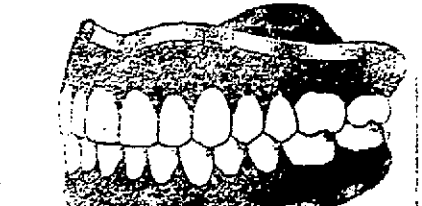

The old full-grown tea leaves you get in common tea are loaded down with tannin—that's what gives common tea its puckery taste. For Schilling Tea, we use only the young leaves, rich in fine tea-flavor.

If you like tea strong in tannin, buy the common kind. If you want fine tea, without the puckery taste, ask your grocer for Schilling Tea.

There are four flavors of Schilling Tea—Japan, Ceylon-India, Oolong, English Breakfast. All one quality. In parchment-lined moisture-proof packages. At grocers everywhere.

Miss Laughlin Is Touring East for Equal Suffrage

By EDNA B. KINARD

Miss Gail Laughlin, whose interest in equal suffrage first brought her to California, where she has remained to become leader in the woman movement, is now touring the Atlantic states in which ratification of the federal amendment seems in doubt, making an eloquent plea on behalf of the political franchise. Miss Laughlin went east before the holidays to revisit her former home, and as president of the National Professional and Business Women's League to make an official tour of the auxiliary branches. Knowing to what a staunch suffragist who can convince even the most doubtful, Miss Laughlin was invited to lend co-operation to the campaign.

This new task will delay Miss Laughlin's return to California plans for some weeks. She has promised, however, that her home coming will not be later than May, when the annual meeting of the California Civic League, of which she is president, will take place.

WOMEN ADOPT PLAN TO CENSOR FILMS
While civic workers everywhere have been trying to solve the problem offered in the question of censorship of films, Palo Alto has evolved a system under which no one need witness a scene play that a person should not witness. Palo Alto center, California Civic League, is responsible for the plan and its operation and places its findings entirely at the disposal of the citizen. The Palo Alto women are rather pleased with their ingenuity.

They declare that a higher standard in films is the direct and immediate result.

A censor committee composed of women broad enough to be kind and interested enough to be careful, has been appointed from the center. It is the mission of this body to be present at every first night in every theater within the city. A report of the film and the show is immediately filed and placed in the Community Center for the public.

A telephone service even is established whereby the people may have information of the bills and their fitness.

In the case of an adverse report, before making public the findings the censors visit the management of the house and put the case before him. In this way the civic workers believe they are protecting the children and young people from shows which would do them harm.

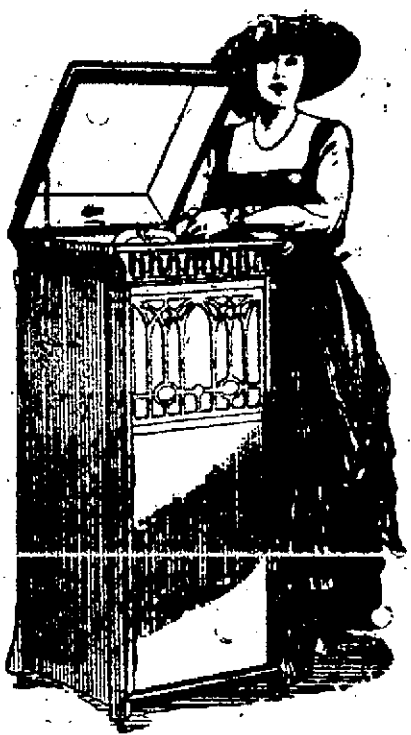

SEVEN WOMEN REPEAT MESSAGE ALL ALIKE
Seven women who can repeat the same message in the same way have been found by Mrs. L. C. Grasser, chairman of the telephone committee. The discovery has been worthy of comment in public meeting. It falls to the work of this body to convey the message to the public by wire, by federation representatives and clubs.

The message is first framed by Mrs. Grasser as chairman, who sends it on to her seven committee members. A year's trial has established the fact of their adherence to truth.

POLITICS BECOME OF GENERAL INTEREST
Mrs. W. S. Jennings of Jacksonville will be offered as a candidate for the office of first vice-president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs by the Florida federation at the biennial convention in Des Moines, Iowa, in June. Politics are becoming a distinct interest in the general federation meetings and announcements of names of those women the club women would honor, arriving in every mail.

Marie Morrissey
Drawn from actual photograph

Why last night's audience at the Oakland Auditorium was so completely mystified. Marie Morrissey was inside the phonograph in all excepting physical presence

At first reading, the story of the New Edison's performance last night at the Oakland Auditorium seems fraught with mystery.

But the explanation is simple enough.

First, get a picture of what happened. Miss Morrissey sang "Happy Days." She stopped after the first few lines, but her voice flowed on without a break. No one even noticed she had stopped—until some eyes keener than the rest, saw her lips were still. It was only then that realization dawned. The audience found it had listened to the New Edison.*

To every ear, the two voices, living and RE-CREATED, had been without a shade of difference.

That was what so mystified last night's audience. They had expected the RE-CREATED art to betray its phonographic origin. It was a step too advanced for their comprehension that this instrument should be all that Miss Morrissey is, excepting her physical presence.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph With a Soul"

This extraordinary proof is the only means through which people learn to appreciate the true powers of the New Edison. If you are interested in music, it is indeed unfortunate that you were not present last evening.

Yet, you know this is a test which no other phonograph dares to attempt. It is proof that no one can evade or deny. The New Edison is the only phonograph which RE-CREATES music and the soul of music.

Come in and hear it for yourself.

*The instrument used in last night's Tone-Test is the regular model which sells for $295. It is an exact duplicate of the Laboratory Model which Mr. Edison perfected after spending Three Million Dollars in experiments.

GAMBLING CASES IN S. F. PUT OVER

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—The blaze of fireworks expected in the court of Police Judge Timothy Fitzpatrick when the preliminary hearing of charges of conducting gambling resorts in violation of the law against Frank Dougherty of the Workmen's Club, which was raided, as were a number of other clubs, failed to materialize. District Attorney Brady failed to appear, sending his regrets and begging to be excused on account of the late hour. Chief of Police White was also absent, being away from the city.

The raids were the result of an agreement between Chief of Police White and District Attorney Brady to pursue relentless methods in the extinction of gambling in San Francisco.

Judge Fitzpatrick put the case over until February 26 in order that both Brady and White may be present.

POLICE SEARCH FOR WOODCOCK

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—A search was begun today for Edgar Woodcock, slayer of Edward Kelly, who was indicted yesterday by the grand jury for the murder of Kelly, which he was acquitted on a murder charge. A bench warrant was issued for his arrest, with bonds set at $20,000 or $10,000 cash.

Woodcock was said to be in Eureka, but according to advices from there he cannot be located.orney James Brennan, who defended Woodcock in the murder trial, said last night he had not seen his client since the day after his acquittal.

The indictment against Woodcock was found by the grand jury after Warren G. Cooper, mining engineer, who fled the city after the Kelly shooting, appeared before the investigators Wednesday evening. Cooper accompanied Woodcock along Market street when Woodcock sent his wife ahead of him on an alleged firing expedition.

Man Denies Charges in Wife's Complaint

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—Purely formal acquaintance with Mrs. L. J. Dwyer, "the mysterious widow," his wife, Mrs. Nora K. Cooper, became a co-respondent in her divorce complaint, and "Boogie" telegrams sent to his wife "in jest" in the hope to make her more moderate in her own use of liquor, is information which Nicholas K. Cooper offers in a cross-complaint filed yesterday in the divorce action pending in Judge Thomas F. Graham's court.

Cooper denies that he was drunk more than once in his life and says on that occasion Mrs. Cooper was present. It was coincidental, he says, that he was in the same apartment house, Cooper maintains. He points to a long and intimate friendship with her stepfather, N. R. Ray, as the reason of the frequent meetings in each other's society.

Cooper had complaints of his own to make. He alleges his wife did not cook his breakfast, nor clean his clothes; that she danced with men who flirted with her in cafes; that in Los Angeles she sat up until 2 a. m. playing poker. He denies that he has received large income from mining properties or salary.

The Coopers were married June 25, 1904.

Frederick Gordon Held for Forgery

Frederick Vincent Gordon, who as a former naval aviator was lionized by San Francisco society and cut a wide swath in the hotel life of that city, has been arrested at Columbus, O., on charges of forgery and posing as a naval officer. It is said that he cashed many worthless checks in San Francisco and that his journey across the country has been marked by a trail of worthless papers.

Gordon was an ensign during the war and with peace continued to wear the uniform. He is said to have claimed to be the fiancé of Mrs. Alla Chabinger, daughter of William Henshaw, who calls the story a flight of the man's imagination. L. E. Meyer, 2550 Green street, and Miss Irene Cohn are among those who are said to have cashed checks which proved worthless.

Krull Denies Bed Constitutes Home

"A former saloon keeper cannot put a bed in a room in which there are 200 bottles of assorted liquors and claim that room as his temporary home," United States Commissioner Francis Krull yesterday admonished Henry Jensen, who was arrested for violating the prohibition law. Jensen was held to the grand jury and his bond fixed at $500.

Informations charging violations of the national prohibition law were also filed against H. C. Jung, John J. Carroll, Angelo Baganini, Carlo Minotti, Victor Canton and Edward Narber, all of Oakland.

COSMOPOLITE, PARROT, AGED 150, IS DEAD

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—Peggy is no more. For a century and a half Peggy has watched the passing of events, new nations come and old nations go, to at last bow to the inevitable. She was gently ushered from this life by Mike Hennessy, executioner for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to animals. The cruelly old, in old age and a mind wandering to her childhood of 150 years ago.

Peggy was a parrot, England gave her birth. She lived for a decade in India before she found her way to New Zealand to make her home for twenty years. From there a sea captain brought her to San Francisco. Peggy is conversant with local history of the last thirty years. In her travels she picked up smatterings of various tongues and spoke in languages which are presumed to have belonged to the middle ages.

For ten years Peggy was a feeble, growing feeble. Her mistress on Fifth avenue at last was obliged to summon the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. "Goodbye, Peggy," was Peggy's farewell to this life.

Fever and Other Prostrating Diseases that Exhaust the Blood.

There is often that extreme tired feeling, loss of appetite, tendency to anemia, nerve exhaustion, inactive levels, constipation and great danger of still further prostration and serious illness.

Hood's Sarsaparilla first works upon the blood. It is remarkable how promptly its purifying, vitalizing effects are noticed. It "makes food taste good," promotes assimilation so as to help secure the greatest nourishment possible, promotes digestion, nerve strength and cheery health inevitably follow. Further danger is avoided and the glad-to-be-alive feeling again prevails. To read this is well, to realize it yourself is better.

Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today, and a cathartic, nothing better than Hood's Pills, in small doses a gentle laxative, larger, an active cathartic. —Advertisement.

Cincinnati authority tells how to dry up a corn so it lifts out.

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before. Says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezing applied directly on a tender, aching corn stops soreness at once and soon the corn loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

A quarter of an ounce of freezeone costs very little at any drug store, but is sufficient to take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue or skin. —Advertisement.

MISSING BRIDE FOUND IN CHICO

Mrs. Ethel Louise Van Scoy, wife of Robert Van Scoy, formerly a cook at the Horshoe Inn, Thirteenth and Franklin streets, who disappeared from San Francisco six weeks ago, has been located in a hotel in Chico, where she is employed as a waitress.

Mrs. Van Scoy says she left Oakland for Chico without anyone knowing of her destination because she was forced to marry Van Scoy, who was an ex-soldier.

According to the girl's story, her mother, Mrs. L. Rutherford, 45 South Park street, San Francisco, who appealed to the newspapers to assist her in locating her daughter, feared her husband would not be able to find her.

"He did not have enough money to buy our marriage license, and he never gave me a wedding ring."

"If I go back to San Francisco I will have to work harder than I am working here. Had mother permitted me to marry the man I loved I would be happy today. But I listened to her advice. She ordered me to marry him, and so I did."

Mrs. Van Scoy told of separating from her husband in Oakland on the day of their marriage. She said a reconciliation was brought about later but lasted for only a few days.

Mrs. Van Scoy was posing under the name of Ethel Homer. She was recognized from a photograph published in the newspapers.

APPROBATION WON BY TINA LERNER

By ROY HARRISON DANFORTH

Charming as to talent and personality too, Tina Lerner won her way to the warm appreciation of an audience that nearly filled Harmon gymnasium at the University of California last evening for the second concert of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra season. The orchestra had but to reassure the hold upon hearers it had already won, a feat which it performed with certainty and dispatch, but the pianist's task was more complex in this, that she was introducing herself for the first time to almost all of her auditors.

Along with the orchestra she played the Grieg concerto, the only one of the season, and the Schumann concerto. The latter is a little of the epic in this work, but there is much of voyaging into new harmonic and rhythmic lands. It is constantly of interest for these reasons, yet its message transcends the peculiarities of it so that it demands intelligence and a measure of poetic feeling in addition to mere technical equipment.

Tina Lerner failed to afford the one as little as she fell short of the other. The dynamics of her playing, which particularly required the ear, that was the orchestra's competition, never once was inadequate. In some of the fortissimo passages, not rare in this work, the vigor of her playing was strikingly masculine. She played with a sure grip of the tantalizing rhythmic problems, and, with some slight exception in the heavier chord passages, a charming coherence and flow of line.

The orchestral contribution to the program, both to this and the other numbers, was one of the most satisfactory things I have heard Alfred Weber, though it never loses its charm of freshness and buoyancy, is not among the most impressive of orchestral works. Mr. Hertz invested it, however, with much grace and no little poetry.

But it was the Tchaikovsky "Pathétique," which, as ever, even with the weakest interpretation, wins the way, that was the orchestral highlight of the evening. This was the third occasion on which I had heard the San Francisco Symphony offer this work, and the feeling that such playing could scarcely anywhere be excelled struck even more forcibly at this time. It was specially indicative of the Hertzian versatility. In the gentlest of lyric passages, in the diabolic of such a mad march as the third movement, in the Titan task of picking up great mountains of musical emotion and hurling them into your soul that he displayed the closing portion, from trifles thin as air to imponderable cosmic thunders, the adequacy of him as a leader and his men as executants does not vary.

SINGS WITH PHONOGRAPH.

The impression of the recital which Miss Marie Morrissey, contralto, Harold Lyman, flutist, and the Edison phonograph gave jointly at the Auditorium last evening was quite as flattering to the artists as to the impersonal instrument which stood beside them. It was a little toward one side of the stage. The comfortably-sized audience was apparently in continual doubt whether it ought the more to applaud the visible artists than the eerie reproductions of their voice and instrument.

The program, of an interesting nature for both singer and flutist, was equally calculated to display the reproductive perfection of the Edison. Miss Morrissey sang, for instance, "Connais-tu le pays," from "Mignon," and the Edison sang it over after her with starting accuracy. Miss Morrissey's voice is of much richness, sure intonation and good breadth. None of these, nor her other characteristics, seemed to escape the Edison. It was not always apparent, even, whether she or her record was singing; the charm carried home, whenever its source, Clay-Smith's "Gentle Miss You," the ballad, "Flow Gently, Sweet Afton," and "Le parlate d'amour," the "Faust" flower song, were other numbers she sang.

Mr. Lyman followed suit. He played with the Edison and against it, and honors were well balanced at the close. Piano "recreations" were also in the bill to assert the machine's abilities in that line, too.

Wedding is Caused by Finding of Dime

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—A "thin" dime played the stellar role in a belated romance here yesterday. Miss Amanda Howard, colored, was hurrying on her clothes to appear against Henry Burnett and swear away his liberty upon a charge of burglary. When, lo and behold, a little dime rolled serenely into a corner of her room.

Amanda turned up the carpet to look for the strange silver piece and there, under the carpet, she found a roll of $150 in greenbacks, the money she had accused Henry of stealing. The jury acquitted Henry and five minutes later the couple announced to the court that they expect to be married.

MENTAL WORK NEEDS A STOMACH

Great Mistake to Imagine You Can Work Better and Faster on the Starvation Plan—Eat What You Like but Follow With Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Mental work uses up energy fast. And energy comes from food. To eat little or nothing in order to do more work is a fancy that has created an army of dyspeptics. A better plan is to eat the regular portions of food such as make up the average meal and follow each meal with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. They will set a double benefit—energy from food and sociability with meals, for as a rule, the light eater, or those who skip meals, get into a bad habit, a rut of harmful isolation. Do not be afraid of gas, sour stomach, heartburn, heavy feeling or coated tongue after meals. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets act on the stomach to secrete the juices necessary to relieve these troubles that so frequently distress the mental worker. They contain harmless ingredients which act with an alkaline effect, so you may eat the rich things of the banquet or the savory sausage for breakfast with utmost freedom.

Get a 50-cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any drug store, eat freely of what you like and you will do more and better work than on a skimpy diet. Try this plan—advertisement.

WHEN A MIND OFFENDS.

When President Wilson wrote Secretary of State Lansing that he would be pleased if Mr. Lansing would give up his office and afford him an opportunity to select someone whose mind would more willingly go along with mine, there was vividly and consciously portrayed one of the most disconcerting mental traits of the present President of the United States. A mind that will go along with mine! That is the only kind of a mentality Mr. Wilson the man and the official has ever willingly tolerated very long at one time.

This is the narrow and altogether inhuman test by which he measures the fitness of those associated with him in the great government of the United States. A chance opening of the pages of John Morley's Recollections places before the eye the statement that he, Morley, was a firm believer in the virtues and benefit of consultation. That pictures the very antithesis of President Wilson. Is not this statement to Mr. Lansing a rather dismal comment upon the character of the man who get along amiably with the President? A mind that goes willingly along with another mind, into contact with which it was thrown by no stronger or more spiritual attraction than a common rule of political patronage and preferment, is not the sort of mind from which either useful or great things are expected. Such a condition bespeaks a mental and moral stultification, or in a theoretical sense, perfect equality and consanguinity of understanding, vision, and aspiration.

It is an extraordinary and curious conceit that leads the President to desire in his councils a mind that goes along willingly with his own. The greatest leaders, men who have achieved greatness by their gift of collaborating human effort, have preferred men with independent minds, of superior erudition and capacity for thinking. They have welcomed differing opinions as a torch lighting the way to the sure and safe course of action. All they have required is loyal cooperation in carrying out announced decisions.

A faithful servitor is not one who fawns and smiles and unciously lends approval to every glance and whisper of his chief; not what those inclined to slang call a "yes man." He is the man who contributes his ideas, his views and his knowledge and experience when and where they will in his opinion be of some service. He is able, in view of the responsibility above him, to view with perfect equanimity the rejection of his opinion and to enter heartily upon the execution of the program finally agreed upon.

Of this admirable type is former Secretary of State Lansing. He is not charged with disobeying his chief, the President, or of withholding cooperation in any policy the President decided on. He merely committed the unpardonable crime, retaining independence and self-respect of mind. He merely committed the unpardonable crime of would unhesitatingly go along with the mind of the President or any other man. Hence he was declared unfit for the President's cabinet.

RAINMAKERS IN DEMAND.

In the vicinity of Newman, California, an official rainmaker has been guaranteed $3,000 if six inches of water falls by April 10. His contract calls for that amount and is to be a mere scrap of paper if the downfall fails by so much as a fraction of an inch.

Should rain fall heavily all over the State the farmers will pay Charles M. Hatfield at the rate of $500 an inch, provided of course the minimum is reached, regardless of whether they believe the downfall was a result of his efforts. As they see it, they will feel so good that they won't miss the money, and there will be the pride in encouraging a peculiar and native industry.

Just how Mr. Hatfield sets about to produce rain out of a stubborn sky is guarded by him as a secret in trade. It is known that he is no touch on the job and that the position is not a swivel chair sinecure. Those who have seen him in action report it is a matter of considerable activity and that the responsibility of controlling the elements rests upon him with an impressive weight. It is said that he darts here and there to the fields where he deposits pans of rain coaxes, that he examines them continually and that he neglects no opportunity to see that everything is in working order.

The queer thing about the rain-making business is that when the operation fails there is no securing loss in reputation. He is like the oldest inhabitant who hits the weather one time in ten and who is regarded as infallible for all his mistakes.

Regardless of what the water-gauge at Newman may say, Mr. Hatfield's campaign is not to be without enlivening circumstances. He has furnished a topic for checkers-game conversation and the wagers on his success or failure are growing in proportion.

The American Indian, who believed in face paint and feathers for men, had rain-makers who gave a better show for the money. Hatfield should throw in a dance and an incantation.

THE CHERRY TREE STORY.

The time for the relating of the cherry tree story is again at hand. It is a story Americans have taken at full value for over a hundred years and will continue to accept, regardless of the fact that it is probably not true.

The idea of the episode as portrayed in school books and juvenile literature is that George severed the trunk and was standing beside the prostrate cherry tree when an angry father made the discovery. M. L. Weems, the Virginia minister who, in 1780, wrote the "Life of George Washington," and told the story for the first time, says that all George did was to hack at the tree. "He barked the tree so terribly," writes Weems, "I don't believe the tree ever got the better of it."

There has been some question as to what George said to his father and what the elder Washington replied. The Weems version, which sounds more like the little Rollo of childhood fame than like the red-haired George Washington is:

"George," said the father, "do you know who killed the beautiful little cherry tree in the garden?"

"Looking at his father with the sweet face of youth, brightened with the inexpressible charm of conquering truth, he bravely cried out:

"I cannot tell a lie, pa. You know I cannot tell a lie. I did cut it with my little hatchet."

"Run to my arms, you dearest boy," cried his father in transports, "run to my arms. Glad am I, George, that you killed my tree, for you have paid me for it a thousandfold. Such an act of heroism in my son is worth more than 1000 trees, though blossoming with silver and their fruits of purest gold."

Somewhat different is this from the familiar "Father, I cannot tell a lie" story, but the meaning and the moral is the same. Of the tale Henry Cabot Lodge, in his biography of George Washington, expresses the opinion that it is "hopelessly and ridiculously false." In a chapter devoted to Washington, Lodge characterizes the discovery of the cherry tree story as a "genial old lie." Other historians hold the same view.

Yet the cherry tree story will continue to blossom on the 22nd of every February and the hatchets of all the historians will not bring it down. There is no occasion to regret its robust growth.

The growing sentiment that such an overwhelming Republican State as California, whose varied interests prosper under Republican policies and should be more fully represented in Congress by undoubted adherents of that party, is making a situation in the First Congressional District that gives promise of redeeming it. Euvelle Howard is making a very active canvass and will probably receive the Republican nomination. He is a man of consequence at home—Lake county—and is an aggressive campaigner. The interests of the First District particularly lie with Republican policies, its products being especially conserved by protection; and given an equal personnel in candidates, with the prevalent readiness of the country for a change, there would seem to be small doubt of the winning of the First District back to the party which is so undoubtedly dominant in the State.

MR. HOUSTON'S GOOD REPORT.

The country is indebted to the new Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Houston, for his statement on the international financial situation. It is a comprehensive and clear-cut review, which carries hope and courage, both to Americans and Europeans. The situation is not as bad as it has been painted by calamity howlers. Europe has resources which can be employed to advantage in dealing with the United States. Secretary Houston draws a parallel between Europe's present position and the status of America following the Civil War, and after financial depressions. This country needed capital then and borrowed it from individuals in Europe, giving in return the securities of profitable enterprises, from which the lenders made enormous profits.

The same process can and will be adopted now, with the relations reversed. Americans are finding profitable investments in Europe, and can find many more if they will but investigate. The European governments can assist by insuring the stability of investments and by giving guarantees not to impose sudden and excessive taxes on American-owned securities. Individual Europeans have in America an immense reservoir of capital if they will but reduce their plans to business-like basis and abandon the idea that America is a business-prudent millionaire uncle, whose sole idea is to water money.

Secretary Houston reports that the United States has been about $4,000,000,000 in Europe since the armistice was signed. That is proof that the United States has not failed to meet its obligations. Notwithstanding this enormous transfer of credit, treasury conditions are sound and the market for Liberty bonds is very bright. These bonds are the prime security of the world. Every possession of a Liberty bond is fortunate for the holder, something which will increase in value. Citizens who have not paid up all their bond installments should do so, for they will never make a better investment.

Mr. Houston's report is most timely, as it does much to dissipate the gloom into which the people had been plunged by pessimistic statements and prolonged harping on Europe's condition. The Secretary of the Treasury knows whereof he speaks, and when he states that the situation is improving he turns the minds of millions of men in the right direction, toward renewed confidence and greater energy. These elements will speedily scatter the clouds of doubt and despondency.

NOTES and COMMENT

This is going to be a great year for the rain wizard—the magician who by incantations and other processes takes up Jupiter Pluvius' job, he not having been attentive to his duties. The magician has not had an inning since that year he overdid it down San Diego way, when a flood descended and swept away everything.

It is interesting that the Attorney-General of Mississippi has given the Chinese their color status. Chinese now rank with negroes in that State and their children must go to schools maintained for the colored race. But this decision does not affect a large proportion of the population.

Strange grounds upon which divorce proceedings are based continue to be alleged. In a case reported from San Francisco it is alleged that defendant took the tag of plaintiff's dog so it would be "look" by the poundman!

"An" heir born to the Sultan, as per a news item, is an indication of the changed conditions. In the good old days, Sultan's progeny did not figure in the singular number.

The London Mail fears a break between that country and the United States on account of the "Auratic settlement," in which President Wilson's note is figuring. And four years ago he was being voted for because he kept us out of war.

The trial of a woman who shot another is now taking place in San Francisco before packed audiences. "Tears were shed freely by the spectators during the recital of the woman's story." Hazard a guess as to what the verdict will be.

The death of a bellboy in San Francisco is reported, together with the fact that he left an estate of but $10,000. But perhaps he had been on the job only a few days.

Preliminary warnings of the possible necessity of conserving water are being made. If this is to include drinking water, humanity in general will be up against it, other liquids being so completely under the ban.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

Hatfield has been engaged again by Newman ranchers to produce at least two inches of rain before April 10, the rain maker to receive $1000 for each two inches and no pay for rain in excess of six inches. It was at Crow's Landing where eight years ago Hatfield did such a good stunt at bringing juice out of sky that the farmers cried, "Stop it." If Newman gets rain and the rest of us don't, it will be Newman's laurels. If we all get it we may laugh at our Stanislaus neighbor a little, but Newman won't care, for in that case we can all afford to laugh together. Here's hoping!—Stockton Record.

Old Jupiter Pluvius must look on the activities of "Rainmaker" Hatfield with considerable amusement. Bet the old fellow agrees with F. T. Barnum.—Hanford Sentinel.

C. L. Coker, Tehama county, is registered at the Crawford today. Coker became famous seven years ago when with his secret apparatus he located two artesian wells in Glenn county. He was acclaimed far and wide as a "water wizard" and from all parts of the state came calls for his services. For several years he has not been heard of and it was believed he had retired, but here he is again in Willows. The prospects of a dry season and many new wells has probably created a demand for his services.—Willows Journal.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Mitchell are getting more eggs these days. They have tried the experiment of lighting their chicken houses with electricity early in the morning, long before daylight, with a view of making the hens lay more eggs. The experiment has proved successful. Mrs. Mitchell said a day or so ago, and the hens are laying more eggs than ever before. A new light system was recently installed on the farm and an automatic apparatus turns the juice on early in the morning in the chicken houses.—Woodland Democrat.

It is what a man has to do for a living that calls on him. If it were to become the custom for ball teams to pay rooters, it would not be long before there would be a rooters' union that would demand a reduction of innings, more wages and a pint of grape juice per capita between innings.—Richmond News.

Berkeley high school had an "old clothes" day when teachers and students appeared in classrooms dressed in their old clothes. The principal wore overalls and a ragged coat, girls wore their hair in braids and refrained from the use of rouge and powder. It must have looked like a masquerade party. But they have nothing on a lot of people who can wear old clothes every day in the week.—Stockton Record.

H. D. Roper, representing the California Packing Corporation at this place, had the honor of shipping the first asparagus of the season from this section, the initial consignments going out Tuesday. Four crates were sent to John Nix & Company, New York, and four to C. H. Weaver & Company, Chicago. This will bring Antioch prominently before the eastern commission men.—Antioch Leader.

J. D. Moughner was in El Centro the other day and heard some lettuce growers there bragging of single heads that would weigh a pound and a half. Thursday morning he brought the Sentinel one of the heads picked at random from his patch west of town, and it is now on display to shame the braggers of El Centro. The head weighs a trifle more than two and a quarter pounds. From the tip of its leaves it measures sixteen inches across.—Seelye Sentinel.

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

What Really Happens When You "Catch Cold" in a Cut

By DR. LEONARD K. HILSHIRE, A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University)

When a cut or scratch becomes sore and inflamed with matter you are apt to say two things that are not true. Either "you have caught cold in the cut," or your "blood is not in good condition."

The truth is that you do not catch "cold in a cut," but dirt and germs have found their way into the wound. Your blood may be in perfect order, as no doubt it is, but your cut or scratch has not been protected from bacteria, dust and irritant chemicals or impure soaps, the matter which usually abounds in the air, water and kernels will be found to vegetate in the fresh, open cut and its jagged edges.

It is a matter of everyday experience that countless little cuts and scratches, which every person receives in lifetime almost always heal without trouble, no matter whether treated or not.

It is also well known that occasionally these small injuries, and more often the larger ones, do not do so well. The wound becomes red and painful, it throbs, the edges swell, and finally matter develops. This matter is called "pus." When the matter escapes the pain ceases and the cut gradually heals.

At other times the redness rapidly spreads, the swelling increases, pain becomes worse, and the wound forms in the groin or armpit, and in a short time the entire arm or leg, as may be, becomes involved.

Taken at this stage, prompt and vigorous surgical treatment may produce a cure, but if neglected the condition steadily grows worse and the "blood poison," so-called, sometimes ends in death.

All bacteria can be killed by heat and certain powerful chemicals, such as tincture of iodine, carbolic acid or bichloride of mercury. Germs are so exceedingly small that it is difficult to get a correct idea of their real size.

Millions of them can float around in a drop of dirty water without touching. If one of them were placed alongside of a man and both were magnified sufficiently to make the hair of the man's head the size of a period in a newspaper, the man would appear about as tall as, say, Mt. Washington, which is 6293 feet high.

Happily, of the numberless different kinds of germ diseases, only about seventy or more are dangerous to human tissues. Thousands of other kinds are really harmless or even helpful and cooperative in making foods or removing decayed and old materials.

Of the few score of disease producers, even these lose their strength and vitality very easily. The skin and internal membranes resist them easily and make them powerless. It is only when the skin becomes injured or undernourished that germs get in, "their dirty work."

Sweden expects the Riksdag to abolish the death penalty for crime this year.

Caillaux Foresees Verdict of Guilty in Treason Trial

(By International News Service)
PARIS, Feb. 20.—The Echo de Paris stated today that former Premier Joseph Caillaux, who is on trial for treason, has told his victed and to be banished from France for ten years. M. Caillaux was quoted as saying that "he ex-

Clarendon, this morning.

"Women will attend mass meetings and become wildly indignant over the high costs of vegetables and do nothing else to assist in combating it," Miss Elizabeth Livermore declared to the young women who represent industrial work in California, Nevada, Arizona and the Hawaiian Islands.

The second morning of the conference was given over to a consideration of employment management as presented by Bell and the co-operative movement as outlined by Miss Livermore. An open discussion followed each address. The industrial program for association clubs was discussed this afternoon by Miss Freda Murres. Miss Josephine
Lynch, Miss Constance McCorkle of New York and Miss Grace Tully, Tonight Miss Emma Palmer, Miss Grace Love and Miss Suzanne Atchell will be speakers at an informal conference on relationships between employers and employees and various federations and institutes.

Bell declared that the distribution of $3 gifts at Christmas time, with turkeys on Thanksgiving, would not keep the laboring classes content.
He saw in the re-established personal contact between employer and employee the Americanization of industry.

"If women do not use the weapon within their hands for bringing down the costs of the necessities of life—that weapon being co-operative buying—they need not complain of the high costs six days of seven,"
Miss Livermore told the industrial social workers. In demonstrating the success of the project in San Francisco where the difference in the buying and selling costs is returned to the members of the Cooperative League in the store which has been in operation since October 21, Miss Livermore announced that on a capital of $12,000, within the period to January 31, the volume of business had amounted to $123,- 000.

The conference will close tomorrow.

Fire Department is Facing Big Deficit

That the Fire Department is facing a deficit of $46,287 between now and the end of the present fiscal year developed at the meeting of the city council this morning, when information on the condition of the department was laid before the council by Commissioner of Public Health and Safety F. P. Morse. The statement says that the deficit is caused by the ruling of the State Railroad commission granting additional freight charges for the East Bay Water company, which has resulted in an excess of more than $27,000 being charged for the nine months ending June 30. Morse asked the council for a transfer of the $27,000 reserve in the budget to the Fire Department appropriation, for the Fire Department appropriation, transfer was adopted unanimously.

Assailant Flees As Woman Calls for Aid

The city is being combed by the Oakland police today for an unidentified man who, according to Mrs. J. Houston of the Caldwell Court Apartments, Twenty-first and Harrison streets, attempted to attack her last night near Sacred Heart Convent as she was going home from work. Mrs. Houston was able to give the police a partial description of the man.
The police report states that the man stepped out of the shadows near the Convent wall as Mrs.
Houston passed, but when she screamed he disappeared.

Council Considers Tent Damage Claim

Further complications over the claim of the Daah-Thoms company against the city for damages in the sum of $500 to tents supplied by the company for the election last spring developed before the city council this morning, when City Auditor Harry G. Williams for the second time rejected the claim. The council ordered City Clerk L. M. W.
Cummings to draw a new warrant segregating a damage claim of $500 from the rental claim of $1,000. The warrant for rent will be paid, with the company probably will be compelled to file suit for damages.

Park Athletic Club Gives Rally Tonight

In order to arouse club enthusiasm and to create an interest in the benefit dance which the club will give on Saturday evening, February 23, the members of the Park Boulevard Athletic club will hold a bonfire rally in the playground at 7:45 o'clock this evening. The rally is especially called by the members of the 130-pound basketball team who have distinguished themselves recently by winning all their games so far in the TRIBUNE League, and on Saturday evening expect to put up a great fight for the city championship in a game with the Oakland Y. M. C. A. 130-pound team.

The wood for the bonfire will be supplied by the junior members of the club, who will also furnish a short program, assisted by Oliver Hyde, who will give a special num-

Pioneer Rail Man's Funeral Conducted

Funeral services for James H.

Beany, who died yesterday at his home, 531 Jones street, were held this afternoon from the residence. Beany, who had been ill but a short time, came to California in the early fifties and then went to Nevada to take up stock raising. He was in the employ of the Southern Pacific railroad for 21 years and retired several years ago on a pension. He was 77 years old and a brother of Mrs. S. J. Hubbard of Los Angeles.

Pulled Into Well and is Found Dead

SAN JOSE, Feb. 22.—F. W. Diepen, aged 52, a rancher living on Curtner avenue, was almost instantly killed late yesterday afternoon when his clothing caught in the shaft of the motor operating a pump for irrigation purposes. His sons who were working in a different part of the orchard missed him and after investigating found the body in the bottom of the well pit. Most of his clothing had been torn from his body and was found wrapped around the shaft of the motor. Diepen had been a rancher in this valley since 1906, coming here from San Francisco.

Opera Manager Sues for $35,000 Damages

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—Fortune Gallo, manager of the San Carlo Grand Opera company, has filed suit against Charles R. Baker, until recently advance agent for the company, for $35,000. He alleges that his business reputation has been injured $25,000 worth and asks for $10,000 exemplary damages. A letter which Gallo charges Baker wrote to O. O. Young, manager of a booking agency in Portland, handling the opera company's affairs, is included in the complaint. In the letter Gallo is accused of working by questionable methods and bribery to have his own name featured extensively in the opera company's publicity to the detriment of the booking agency. The letter also accuses Gallo of giving a "small bribe" for the same reason. A week ago Baker filed suit against Gallo in Los Angeles for more than $35,000, that Baker says Gallo until over him on a year's contract that expired in May, 1919.

GOLDEN STATE SWISS CHEESE

Cheese making in Switzerland is an Art. The efficient Research Department of CALIFORNIA CENTRAL CREAMERIES has made Swiss Cheese manufacture in California a Science.

After developing a process that gives true Swiss flavor, and the Big Hole, the company's scientists reduced the work to the production of the thermometer and the clock.

In Switzerland experts guess when a cheese is ready to be scooped from the big copper kettles.

California Central Creameries operators know when the process will be complete, as certainly as the turnstile clock tells when the next ferry leaves.

The result is a Swiss Cheese as dependable as the reputation of Golden State Butter.

Merchants' Exchange Compliments Council

Mayor John L. Davis received today from the Merchants' Exchange a communication of appreciation for his stand on the proposed municipal business license ordinance that failed of passage before the city council several days ago. The Exchange led the opposition to the measure.

"As chairman of the license committee of the Merchants' Exchange and representing 600 protesting merchants," read the letter, which was under the signature of J. C. Downey, "I wish to extend to you my thanks for the stand you have taken on the license ordinance. You are absolutely right."

Bringing forth grounds to persist in her declaration that she is still the wife of Franklin D. Williams, 1551 Eighth street, Mrs. Anna D. Williams, who declares that she was railroaded into an insane asylum and that her husband transferred his affections to a woman she had befriended in time of need, is determined to continue her suit for separate maintenance just as if Williams' divorce from her were not a matter of record in San Francisco.

"Franklin D. Williams had his wife adjudged insane," said Harry Lister, Mrs. Williams' attorney. "He never had that judgment reversed. To secure a valid divorce he should have had a guardian appointed, and sued her through that guardian."

Williams, who is a shipyard worker, has not been served with the notice of the action. The home on Eighth street today was barred to

POLICE HALT GUM GAMBLE OF STUDENTS

The newest thing in games of chance is the "gum gamble." Discovered by students of Technical High school and practiced with success until the police called a halt, it consists in wagering on the color of the gum marble which will come out of a machine with each deposit of a penny. The game was played at a store near the high school to the amusement of a large gathering of students and to the profit of the storekeeper.

The police have notified the storekeeper that the practice must stop and are considering asking the gum manufacturer to make all the balls one color.

GOLDEN STATE SWISS CHEESE

Making real Swiss cheese in California was an adventure that required considerable investment and all the skill of the CALIFORNIA CENTRAL CREAMERIES experts.

It was pioneer work. No American manufacturer had succeeded in making a true Swiss Cheese.

After the first successful cheese had been produced at Arcata, a period of six months was necessary for curing.

A stock had to be accumulated of new GOLDEN STATE SWISS CHEESE before the product could be placed on the market.

The curing rooms at Eureka of the CALIFORNIA CENTRAL CREAMERIES contain 4000 cheeses at all times, each weighing approximately 150 pounds.

SONGS of FRANK L. STANTON

When the Wind Lost His Way

I lie awake on a winter's night
An' wish an' wish for day.
When the snow is falling
g h o s t l y white
And the wind has lost his way.
When he shakes the shutter,
an' seems to say:
"I've lost my way."
That's why he's sighin' an' cryin' so
As he wanders all about;
How can he find the way to go?
When the stars are all blown out?
He hasn't a place in the world to stay.
He's lost his way,
He's lost his way!
But then, when the beautiful mornin' breaks
I see him there at play.
A sip of dew from the rose he takes.
Oh, then he has found his way!
Oh, then it is, in the light I say:
"He's found his way."
He's found his way!"

Egg Cocotte
A LA CREME.

In an earthen (terracotta) dish (individual size), drop a tablespoonful of boiling cream. Drop an egg over it, season with salt and pepper and a small lump of fresh butter, and cook in the oven. The above is the fundamental method for the egg cocotte and can be duplicated very many times according to the garnishing used thereof.

MY HEART and MY HUSBAND by ADELE GARRISON

What Madge Did to Win Dicky to Her Bayview Plans.
I say Madge, what's the word as to the togethery for this stunt over at Bayview? We'll have to come home between affairs, won't we? I suppose it's moonlight for the dinner, but I can't wear those in the afternoon to talk to the kids.
Dicky rushed into my room upon the day following our belated acceptance of the invitation to the Stockbridge home, an acceptance which appeared to delight my boyish principal exceedingly. Mr. Stockbridge had immediately named a day of the next week for the appearance of Dicky before the pupils, and I had conveyed the final arrangements to my husband upon his return from the studio.
"Why, I'm afraid there won't be time to come home between times," I answered, with as guileless a manner as I could manage for I feared an outburst from Dicky at the words I meant next to say. "Mrs. Stockbridge expects us to come down to her home after school and spend the time there until dinner, and I must change from school costume to my evening gown there."

"Well, if you think I'm going to cart my moonlights around the country and change my clothes in some school principal's guest chamber, you've got another guess coming," he declared with finality.
DICKY GIVES IN.
"But," I said demurely, "there won't be any need for you to change if you'll only wear your uniform."

"Nothing do," began Dicky, but I interrupted him hastily.
"It will be only for this once, Dicky, dear. I'll not ask you again," I coaxed. And you have no idea how disappointed the final pupils will be if you don't wear it."
To my surprise, Dicky looked reflective instead of uttering more explosive objections, and after a moment he grinned with relativity.
"Of course it's those fool school-ma'ams you're thinking of more than the kids," he said. "Want to prove you haven't been fibbing when you told them about me, eh? He leaned over and tweaked my ear. "Well, believe me, I'm going to have a reward if I get on the old outfit again. I'm going to pick out the prettiest girl in the bunch, and slide myself, of course," he waved a grandiloquent hand at me, "and flirt desperately with her all the evening."

"I give you full permission," I returned lightly, but for a second the laughing face of Bess Dean rose involuntarily before me. She was by far the most attractive girl in the group of Bayviewers, and I knew instinctively that she would have no qualms about "flirting violently" with anything attractively masculine in uniform or out of it.

ONE SILENT LACHRYMATION.
"So far, so good," Dicky returned. But now here's another thing. What are you going to wear? I haven't seen any new duds for you around the diggings lately."

"I don't need evening clothes," I protested. Mrs. Durkee and I have remodeled that white dinner gown and the coat you liked so well, until they're absolutely like the latest vintage, and those people in Bayview have never seen them anyway."

"No, that's so," Dicky agreed. "But you can't bot they've seen that street suit and that hat. I'll agree to say nothing about the evening rig, but I'll serve fair warning on you that I'll go to no afternoon affair at a school or anywhere else with that lid you've been sporting, and that two-year-old suit."

I bit my lip to keep back the spirited retort that rose to them. But the victory of Dicky's agreement to the Bayview schedule of entertainment was too precarious a thing to risk by undiplomatic replies.

The next minute I was glad, indeed, I hadn't spoken, for my husband put his face close to mine. "Don't let her little feelings get hurt," he coaxed. "You know I honor you for managing things so splendidly, but it's time now for a little let-up. And, please be, it's the old Dicky-bird that has had a few stray twigs and grass drift his way. I've had some advance payments on some orders—they're coming in quite rapidly now, thank you—so this won't cramp me a bit, and I want you to spend every cent of it on duds."

"This," pressed into my hand, was a most generous check. Tangible evidence not only of the return of the blessed peaceful days of old, but my husband's love and care for me. I touched it to my lips with a gas, yet loving little gesture, before I kissed the giver.

"Dear boy," I said gleefully. "I'll get hold of Lillian and Mrs. Durkee, so up to town Saturday and have a regular shopping orgy."

ODD FACTS

The diamond has been found on all the continents and in almost every country on the globe.

The extraordinary durability of the ancient Egyptian mummy cloth is believed to be due to the fact that it was finished with a vegetable glue derived from the African locust-bean tree.

The fairness of the European skin is attributed to some virtue in the suprarenal glands, and all the knowledge we have since gained supports the conclusion formed by John Hunter 150 years ago that the original color of man's skin was black.

Words of the Wise

Often a man who is as good as his word is not much good.

Carelessness has caused more poverty, more failure in business, more hard times than all the financial panics in all times.

"I take Dodson's Liver Tone when headachy, sick, Bilious"

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when a few cents buys Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for Calomel.

"Dodson's Liver Tone" is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can not salivate.

Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you.

Advices Ordinary Buttermilk for Wrinkles and Enlarged Pores

This Good Looking Young Woman Uses Old Time Recipe of Buttermilk Cream in a New Way—A Gentle Massage with Fingers Before Retiring All That Is Necessary

Buttermilk and Cream—Simple Remedies Best—Keeps Face, Hands and Arms in Excellent Condition—Soft, Smooth and Beautiful.

The old-time application of Buttermilk and Cream to whiten and preserve the skin and remove harsh little wrinkles and ugly sallowness is grandmother's recipe, and women throughout the country are again using it to ensure a beautiful complexion and snow-white hands and arms.

Buttermilk, however, is not always obtainable, but a specialist has at last perfected a method of concentrating buttermilk and combining it with a perfect cream, which you can buy in any quantities ready to use at any first-class drug store by simply asking for "Howard's" Buttermilk Cream.

There is no secret about it nor is there any doubt about the result—it's just common ordinary buttermilk in the form of a wonderful cream, gently massaged with the finger tips around the corners of the eyes and mouth—

Our Policy Your Gain

Anticipating sharp rises in all merchandise we, months ago, made purchases and contracts for future delivery, that will permit of our selling many articles at less than the present wholesale prices.

While we could easily double the profit we are going to make on much of the merchandise in stock we deem it a far better plan to be content with a nominal profit, and through such a course gain your confidence at once and insure your future patronage.

Especially will you find this true our opening day. We have made a decided cut in practically every article advertised so you are earnestly requested to anticipate your spring and summer wants at this time.

In the women's street dresses, house dresses, aprons, etc., as well as in children's dresses for dress wear and play, you will find great savings due to the fact that all are made in our own factory—there is no middleman's profit for you to pay.

Need For An Economy Store

We are entering the retail women's, misses' and children's wear field with a firm conviction that the residents of the great Eastbay district are ready in their support of a store whose management will honestly endeavor to sell good merchandise at a fair price despite the temptation to take advantage of the present conditions in the retail market.

We will endeavor, at the outset to gain your confidence and once this is accomplished, do everything within our power to hold it. No case of dissatisfaction, no matter how trivial, will be permitted by the management to go unremedied.

Our advertising at all times will carry a true message of economy—no effort being made to exaggerate values but rather a frank description of the merchandise and a clear statement of values.

May we anticipate your presence here Saturday? Our merchandise has been attractively priced for this opening event.

PRICE DROP
IN PRODUCE
CONTINUES

The slump in the wholesale produce market, which began last week and up to yesterday had resulted in fourteen drops in prices, continued today when three commodities already on the downward trend were offered at still lower prices.

Mexican tomatoes held yesterday at $2 and $2.25 a box, were offered today at 25c lower and were still unsold. Today's drop in price of 25c was preceded yesterday by a drop of 50c on the box and means that unless the market reacts to higher prices many of the dealers will lose money on the stocks on hand.

Lettices is down another 25c on the crate, bringing the price to retail sellers down to $1.75 and $2 a crate. Today's drop followed a similar drop of 25 cents on the crate which occurred on Tuesday of this week.

Green peas from Imperial Valley and San Diego can be bought for 3 cents a pound wholesale today where they were held at 9 cents

Declares America Stopped Trial of Accused Germans

(By International News Service)
ZURICH, Feb. 20.—According to the newspaper Zeitung Nachur, the allies' decision to modify their demand upon Germany for more than 600 state and military officers for trial before a war guilt court resulted from a note of protest from America.

"It is learned that an American note to the allies demanded the renunciation of the extradition of the Germans," said the newspaper.

Yesterday's note was bringing as high as 15 cents last Saturday. The market is well choked up with river celery which has been reduced in price to "anything we can get" by the dealers who hold it. Several dealers are happy today because they have disposed of their stocks without losing money and the same ones are hesitating about bringing more into the market at the high price asked by the farmers, fearing further declines in the market.

The citrus fruit market was higher today under the stimulus of larger Eastern shipments from the Los Angeles market.

ROYALIST PLOT DENIED
BUDAPEST, Feb. 20.—War Minister Fierich has denied to the Associated Press that former Emperor Charles is making any attempt to return to Hungary.

COUTTS SAYS
RADICALS SET
BARN AFIRE

STOCKTON, Feb. 20.—The prosecution in the case of G. F. Bentley, on trial on a charge of criminal syndicalism, finished its case today. The testimony of Elbert Coutts and his detailed statements of the making of phosphorus bombs and the burning of barns was the feature of yesterday's session.

Displaying phosphorus furnaces and incendiary bombs, Coutts told of their manufacture by the I. W. W. in Stockton and Oakland, giving an account of places set fire to by the Reds in 1917.

A meeting was held at the local I. W. W. hall early in October, 1917, the witness said. The fact that Dan Lavery, an I. W. W., was in jail at Modesto caused one of the men at the meeting to say, "Let's burn up the town and turn him loose."

At Modesto, said Coutts, they went in opposite directions, two in each party. Before parting they had agreed that they would meet at the machine and return home as soon as a fire had been started.

"We set several bombs," said Coutts, "but I don't know if they started fires or not. The others did set a

U. S. WAR DEAD
EXPLOITATION
CHARGE MADE

FALLS CHURCH, Va., Feb. 20.—Charged with the exploitation of America's hero dead, a man giving the name of Vernon A. Callar is under arrest here today.

Callar is alleged to have secured lists of those Americans who died in France, together with their next of kin. It is charged that he addressed telegrams and letters to the relatives of the soldier dead declaring that a mistake had been made and that the soldier was not dead, but was in this country awaiting funds to pay for his transportation home. It is alleged that Callar received sums of money as high as $100 from the relatives.

Legion Murder Trial
Halted by Illness

MONTESANO, Wash., Feb. 20.—Illness of Juror Edward Parr delayed the Central murder trial here today. Judge Wilson said no session of the trial would be held after he had received a physician's report saying Parr was unable to appear.

The juror has a high fever, the physician said, and influenza is suspected.

He started, so we came back to the machine. "This side of Manteca on the way back we stopped to take some chickens we saw at a farm. There was a barn nearby with some hay in it, so we set the barn on fire."

AUTOS IN COLLISION
HURT SIX

One man is near death and a young woman and four men are suffering as results of automobile accidents in Oakland last night.

Those injured are:

Charles Southworth, 1607 Sixty-seventh, fractured arm, possible fracture of the skull, abrasions on left side, condition held to be serious. Is at Providence hospital.

Frank Nixon, 1507 Sixty-seventh, cut over eye and slight bruises.

Gottfried Dubi, who lives in a barge on the estuary, cuts and bruises, possible internal injuries.

Llewellyn Fairchild, 406 Forty-third street, Oakland, internal injuries.

Miss Ione Newhall, 15 years old, living in Berkeley, slight concussion of brain and scalp wounds.

C. F. Kaiser, 1105 Chatham Road, bruises.

Southworth, a motorcyclist, was injured when he met in head-on collision an automobile driven by Frank Nixon. His machine was thrown violently to the side of the street and his injuries are considered grave.

Nixon was cut by broken glass and was hurled into the windshield of his automobile. He is an employee of the Chevrolet company.

Run down at Eighth and Broadway by an automobile bearing the number 542707, Gottfried Dubi, 35, and a laborer, in the employ of the Rose-Jameson company, was painfully hurt. He was taken to the emergency hospital.

Fairchild and Miss Newhall were seriously injured when the machine in which they were riding down College avenue in Oakland, smashed into a street car. Another machine, driven by Alfred Curran, crossed the street in front of Fairchild's car and Fairchild turned to the right to avoid a collision and hit the street car.

The machine turned over pinning the two victims beneath it. They were taken to the Merritt hospital.

MAN KILLED
IN RIOT OF
S. F. GANGS

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—The climax in a gang feud between the "Cortland avenue gang" and the "Precita avenue gang," was reached last night when Louis Coppo, 20 years old, was shot and killed while walking along the street where 200 men and boys were engaged in a riot.

According to the police the rival "gangs" in the Bernal Heights district have been fighting on the streets at various times for three days. Police have been called several times but the men would be gone when they arrived, they say.

Coppo was returning to his home at 97 Andover street last night when he met his twelve-year-old cousin who is also Louis Coppo. The boy told Coppo of the fight that was in progress and urged him to come and see if his older brother was one of the rioters.

As they drew nearer, the police say, the crowd started to work its way toward their side of the street. Suddenly someone started shooting. Several shots were fired. Coppo fell to the street, fatally wounded, with a bullet in his back. As Coppo dropped the fight ended and the crowd scattered. Coppo was taken to St. Luke's hospital where he was pronounced dead.

Three boys were arrested for the shooting. Those under arrest are Philip Ragone, age 15, 69 Bessie street; Sam Prodelia, 15, 27 Bessie street; and James Byrne, 15, 317 Rutledge street. They deny firing rifles during the fight, police say.

Kaiser was struck by an automobile late last night at Fourteenth and Franklin streets. The machine which knocked him down was driven by H. Adler, 841 Athens avenue. According to the police report, Adler, who was an inexperienced driver, ran up on the sidewalk with his car, hitting Kaiser and knocking him down. Kaiser was taken to his home.

Smuggled Note Starts
New Alcatraz Inquiry

A letter smuggled from Alcatraz Island to Mrs. B. R. Kincaid of Palo Alto renews charges of brutality at the disciplinary barracks and has occasioned an investigation by Colonel R. D. Johnson, executive officer. The letter charged three overseers, Fox, Lane and Davidson, with beating a Siamese prisoner. According to Colonel Johnson the prisoner is a Siamese and has described many imaginary experiences which all the men on the island know to be untrue. The note also charged that the iron cages are still in use.

Vendor of Berkeley
is Adjudged Insane

A belief held by John George, peasant vendor of Berkeley, who wrecked his cell and fought six patrolmen when locked up the other day, that money since prohibition is worthless, aided in sending him to the State Hospital for the Insane at Napa. George threw a number of greenbacks away on the streets shouting, "take it, it's no good for you—can't buy booze with it."
